

An Uncanny Tomorrow: The Video Art of Yuan Goang-Ming Lecture and Screening

March 20, 2017

Lecture:

The Beginning of Video Art in Taiwan and My Practice

145 Natural Sciences Building
10:20 - 11:40 a.m.

In this presentation, Yuan, Associate Professor of New Media at the National Taipei University of the Arts, will offer an overview of contemporary video art in Taiwan since its origins and present aspects of his own work. Yuan mobilizes technological media to explore symbolic and metaphoric concepts that underpin the human experience, creating contemplative renditions of emotions such as joy, fulfillment and loss.

Screening and Discussion:

New Media in Asia: Shorts by Video Artist Yuan Goang-Ming

B117 Wells Hall
6:30 p.m.

Acclaimed international video artist Yuan Goang-Ming will screen and discuss a selection of his shorts. Hosted by Tze-Lan Sang, Professor of Chinese Cultural Studies at Michigan State University.

Sponsored By:
Asian Studies Center
Department of Linguistics & Germanic,
Slavic, Asian and African Languages
Film Studies Program in English
Global Studies in the Arts and Humanities
Ministry of Education, ROC (Taiwan)